

HAZELTON MINERS FIRST TO COMPLY

Union Men in This District Begin
Moving Their Tools in Compliance With Strike Order

EFFECTIVE MONDAY MIDNIGHT

Prepared to Fight it Out if it Takes
All Winter, Anthracite Miners
Assert

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Miners of the Hazelton, Pa., district were first to comply with the general strike order for hard coal miners, issued by John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers.

Miners in the district began removing their tools this afternoon. Removal of the tools from the mine was also ordered.

Attitude of the miners in the Mt. Carmel, Pa., section, as expressed to the United Press, was "we are prepared to fight it out if it takes all winter."

Orders were issued to cut down trolley service to the mines.

Strike of 158,000 anthracite mine workers has been formally called for midnight Monday, when the present agreement with the operators expires.

The 325 local unions in the anthracite region today were to receive the strike order, signed President Lewis, and tomorrow and Sunday it will be read at special meetings of the Union locals.

On Monday afternoon the day shift, comprising the bulk of workers will lay down their tools and at midnight the strike will be complete when the night shift stops work—unless something new entirely unforeseen causes postponement.

Issuance of the strike call came at an unexpected moment. Lewis decided not to await the decision of the anthracite conciliation board as to whether the ten thousand maintenance men should remain at work in event of the strike.

When the board suspended its session at six p. m., yesterday to announce an adjournment until this morning, Lewis and his fellow executives decided to release the summons officially ordering the strike.

Chief among the miners' demands were a ten percent wage increase and introduction of the check-off system, under which the employer deducts union dues from the employees' pay envelopes.

The unions also had sought a longer term of contract, improved sanitation in the mines and adoption of several safety devices.

In the strike call the union leaders pledged themselves to continue to work for a new agreement with the operators. Further delay in issuing the order was impossible, they said, because the men required time to remove their tools and apparatus from the mines.

A compromise is hoped for today in the consideration of whether the union maintenance men will remain at their posts for the duration of the strike.

Failure to provide for maintenance men would immediately endanger hundreds of millions of dollars worth of mines.

Coal operators would be tempted to employ strikebreakers to maintain their properties and the appearance of such workers in the anthracite region might kindle a flame not easily extinguishable.

ADOPT MASCULINE STANDARD

Women Have Won Struggles, Sen. Watson Tells Teachers' Institute

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Women have won their struggle to obtain a single standard of conduct with men, but the trouble is they have adopted the masculine standard, Senator Watson declared today in an address before the Marion County Teachers' Institute.

Watson deplored the situation of utter disregard of all laws and warned that "we should be careful this great American prosperity does not undermine us."

"Teachers more than any other factor outside the home could control the lives of the nation's future citizens," Watson said.

CARS SKID, SWIPE EACH OTHER

Auto Driven by Milroy Woman Most Seriously Damaged

Two machines sideswiped each other in loose material placed on state road 36, three miles south of Rushville Thursday, and both cars were slightly damaged.

The machine driven by Mrs. Dewey Hagen of Milroy was coming toward Rushville, and a car driven by a Mr. Mull of Holton, Ind., was going south, and in passing each other, the material on the road caused the cars to come together, with the wheels striking each other. The Hagen sedan was the most seriously damaged, and had a broken left front wheel and a dented fender. The other machine was damaged, but not seriously. The occupants of the cars were not injured.

KIWANIS CLUB BANQUET HELD AT CENTER CHURCH

Community Address is Delivered by
J. S. Hussey, President of Lebanon Club

COMMUNITY SING ENJOYED

The Rushville Kiwanis club held a community meeting Thursday night at Center, and was banqueted at the Center church, followed by a program that was interesting and entertaining.

The Kiwanians were high in their praise for the welcome extended them by the people of the community, and for the dinner that was served to the 68 people from Rushville, including Kiwanians and their guests.

Omer Trusler led the audience in community singing, and the quartet from the Kiwanis club gave several selections. Mrs. Carl Hester also gave some readings that were exceptionally good, and heartily applauded.

The principal talk was made by J. S. Hussey of Lebanon, who is president of the Kiwanis club of that city. Mr. Hussey is associated with the state department of education and addressed the teachers at the county institute here in the afternoon. His address to the community gathering was consistent with the purpose of the meeting, and he took the word Kiwanis, and letter by letter built his address, showing the value of such organizations to the community.

DELIVERY TRUCK STRUCK BY AN INTERURBAN CAR

Ralph Suess, the Driver, and Charles Foster Suffer Only Slight Bruises in Crash

MORGAN STREET ACCIDENT

The Conover grocery store truck was almost demolished, late Thursday afternoon, when struck by a southbound I. & C. traction in North Morgan street, in front of the home of Mrs. Fred Beale, 524 North Morgan.

Ralph Suess, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Suess, who was driving the light delivery truck, and Charles Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Foster, who was riding with him, both escaped injury.

Young Suess has only one or two minor scratches as the result of the mishap, but the Foster lad suffered several severe bruises.

The truck was driven out of the alley from the east between the Beale home and the residence of Mrs. Lucy Meredith, and the driver did not see the interurban until he had turned north into Morgan street. He pulled the car towards the curb on the east side, in an effort to avoid a collision, but the interurban hit the truck, a broadside, turned it over and shoved it along the street for several feet.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO SWINE FEEDING DAY

County Agent VanMatre Tells of Plans for Event Again This Year, to be Held at Purdue Sept. 25

NOTED AUTHORITY TO SPEAK

Attention was called today by County Agent VanMatre to the annual Swine Feeders day at Purdue University Friday, September 25, in which Rush county hog producers always show considerable interest.

On this special day the experimental work in swine feeding is gone over carefully and reviewed. This has been done for several years and Swine Feeders day has been largely attended by farmers from all parts of the state.

More than the customary interest in the day is expected this year because of the announcement that John M. Eppard of Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa, will be the principal speaker. He is in charge of animal husbandry experimental work at Iowa State college and is regarded as the leading experimentalist and the leading authority on swine feeding in the United States. He is the man who introduced the use of minerals in hog feed. He writes for swine journals and is now under contract to write a series of articles for a well known farm monthly.

It is hoped that a large number of Rush county farmers will be in Lafayette on that day for the program.

THREE COUNTERFEITERS HELD

Trio Arrested in Hammond for Passing Bogus $20 Bills

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Authorities today attempted to trace other members of a gang of counterfeiters flooding the country with bogus twenty dollar bills following arrest of three Italians, believed higher-ups in the gang.

The men, Sam Birabile, 38, Vincent Chioles, 22, and James Capibannis, 18, were arrested by a traffic policeman.

One of the trio attempted to bribe the officers with a crisp bill which bore counterfeit traces. More than one thousand dollars in fraudulent bills were found on the men. They were taken to Indianapolis by federal authorities.

CEREAL PRODUCTS PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Estimated Loss of $200,000 in Destruction of Indianapolis Factory Early Today

ONE FIREMAN IS INJURED

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Flames early today swept the Kneller and Bates cereal products manufacturing plant, causing loss estimated at $200,000.

Falling bricks struck John Fox, a fireman, on the head, injuring him severely. Half a dozen other firemen were slightly hurt while battling the blaze.

Twelve fire companies poured streams of water into the flaming structure for nearly two hours before the first was checked.

Two machinists discovered the fire shortly after midnight in a pulverizing vat on the second floor of the four story brick building.

Before the first fire company arrived the flames had spread through the second story and were eating their way to the third floor.

The second, third and fourth stories were gutted. Large quantities of cereal products and valuable machinery were destroyed.

Another section of the factory in an adjoining building was not damaged.

Ernest Kneller, president of the firm, placed the loss at $200,000 after a preliminary survey.

The factory employs 120 men, working in three shifts.

NOBLESVILLE MAYOR HEAD OF THE MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

Horace G. Brown Elected President and Terre Haute is Named as Next Convention City

WATSON UNABLE TO ATTEND

Gary, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Mayor Horace G. Brown of Noblesville was today elected president of the Indiana Municipal league in convention here. He succeeds Mayor O. G. Davis of Terre Haute. Terre Haute was selected as the convention city in 1926.

Senator James E. Watson was scheduled to make an address today, but was unable to be present on account of a conflict with another speaking engagement.

Round-table discussions of street construction problems were led by W. P. Cottingham of Gary and Robert Tilley of Terre Haute.

The delegates to the convention were taken for an auto tour of the city as the final event of the program.

Governor Jackson, addressing the convention last night, renews his appeal for municipal and local government to exercise strict economy in expenditure of public money.

He reviewed the progress of the state government in paying off the state debt, which he hopes to wipe out the books next year.

Attorney General Gilliom blamed the multitude of regulatory laws for inefficiency of police departments.

"We have imposed too many duties on our police and are expecting too much of them," Gilliom said.

COLLIDE 500 FEET IN THE AIR

Both Are Wrecked and Pilot and Passenger Are Killed

Chicago, Aug. 28—(U.P.)—A military inquest was started today into the death of two men, killed last night when two United States army airplanes collided in mid-air 500 feet above the government flying field at Maywood.

Military authorities will attempt to determine whether the pilot of either plane was stung flying when the crash occurred.

The dead were Lieut. T. P. Smith, pilot of one of the planes, and his passenger, William L. Heptig, member of the Chicago Board of Trade and a captain in the reserve air service.

RAID WEBSTER LAKE HOTEL

Police Act on Tip "Dutch" Anderson Was Hiding There

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Kosciusko county and Fort Wayne police authorities, acting on a tip from Fort Wayne early today, raided the Yellow Banks Hotel at Webster Lake near here, in search of George "Dutch" Anderson.

Anderson, pal of Gerald Chapman, prince of bandits, is wanted in Muncie for the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance who "squealed" on Chapman.

A Fort Wayne woman, who said she knew Anderson, told authorities he was to meet another man at the hotel to get money. Anderson was not located.

ACTION ON OUR REQUEST DELAYED UNTIL SEPT 3

Only Four of Thirteen Members of Memorial Plaza Trustees at Special Meeting

TOPIC AT REGULAR SESSION

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Official action on the recommendation of the state board of accounts for removal of the firm of Walker and Weeks, of Cleveland, as architects for the Indiana world war memorial plaza, was delayed today by the memorial board until September 3.

Only four of the thirteen members of the board were present today and no action could be taken.

The special meeting of the Memorial trustees was called today to air charges against architects for the memorial plaza.

Lawrence Orr, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, recommended removal of the firm of Walker and Weeks, as architects in a letter to Marcus Sonntag of Evansville, chairman of the board.

Orr charged the architects with prohibiting competitive bidding on steel for the main memorial building by specifying a special kind of steel manufactured by a firm in which they were interested.

SHOT BY DEPUTY SHERIFF

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Little hope was held today for the recovery of Arthur Lawson, 30, of Winthrop, shot by Herbert McClure, deputy sheriff, at the Tippecanoe county fair. Lawson knocked McClure down when the officer ordered him from the fair grounds for drunkenness.

U. S. RELATIONS TO WORLD'S PROBLEMS

Dr. Homer L. Morris Discusses This Topic in Drawing Teachers' Institute Lectures to Close

POINTS TO ITS ADVANTAGES

Asserts that Americans Should be Students of World Problems in Order to Keep Leadership

In drawing his series of lectures to a close this morning on world problems, Dr. Homer L. Morris at the county teachers' institute discussed the United States in relation to these world problems.

The last ten years has pushed America out into the front in the leadership of all nations, he declared, and it is up to the citizens to maintain that position. Before, the United States was only on a cross-roads but is now on the main highway, he said.

He pointed out that the United States is the wealthiest nation on the face of the earth, and "we are the financial center of the universe." The United States formerly had to look to Europe for money to finance industry and business over here, but now the European countries look to America for finances.

He declared that last year the United States loaned Europe a billion dollars, even in the face of the fact that they already owed eleven billion dollars loaned them during the war.

Dr. Morris stated also that the United States ranks highest in man power, and pointed out that while there were thousands of Americans killed during the World War, yet our casualties did not amount to anything as compared with the European countries.

The financial resources of America are greater than all nations, he pointed out, and called attention to the supplies of coal, iron, steel, zinc, silver and gold, the vast amount of timber and the fertility of the soil—all of which makes the United States stand out prominently in the leadership of the nations in resources.

He next took up the question of the situation of the United States, as to geographic location. It is a country that, with the exception of Australia, is located in a secure position. The countries of Europe have been surrounded by centuries of long enemies, but no such situation exists in the United States.

He pointed out next that the center of industrial influence is in America, and has moved to this country from Europe and is now located in New York. This factor alone is important in making America assume the leadership in the world problems, he said.

"But this leadership cannot be maintained solely by material forces," Dr. Morris said. "If we must continue to be the leader of the nations, then we must understand and assume the responsibility that is connected with it."

The first responsibility he pointed out, is the importance for Americans to become students of the great world problems. He compared conditions in England in which people over there study and know what takes place in other lands. They must do this, he said, in order to hold their place and rank of importance. People in America do not study the problems of other nations, he said, as they should study them.

He pointed out the mistake made during the outbreak of the war. The public schools of the United States

GASOLINE THIEF IS KILLED

William Gleason of Indianapolis Fires on Prowlers

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28—(U.P.)—Clement Mansfield, 19, was shot and killed today when William Gleason, 44, fired at two men who were prowling about his auto parked in front of his home.

The two men were draining the gasoline tank of the auto when Gleason opened fire, police said. A siphon hose and a bucket containing a small amount of gasoline were found in Mansfield's hand.

The other man escaped. Gleason was slated on a murder charge pending investigation.

withdrew the teaching of the German language in our schools, he said, and in England and France, this language was given extra attention. In Germany, the schools began to teach English and French, in order to meet the world problems, and understand the language of the nations. In America, he said, "we thought we would offend Germany, by not teaching her language. If the United States is to maintain the leadership, it is necessary to study the languages of other nations," he said.

Dr. Morris also showed the importance of the present day age, in which no nation could be isolated from another. He stated that in 1921 and 1922, when American farmers were hard pressed for a market for their grain and meat, that people in Russia, Austria and Poland were starting to die. The peoples of Europe, he said, were bankrupt, and the farmers of this country were affected by it, because there was no market for the surplus.

While in many places in the United States farmers were burning their grain as fuel, and those in Europe were starving. Those countries were penniless and American farmers were facing bankruptcy, which showed, he said, that the world is so closely bound together, that we cannot live as an isolated nation.

Dr. Morris urged the establishment of a world organization to adjust the troubles of nations. He stated that military force and ultimatums could not adjust the differences, and that an organized form of legal process and arbitration was the only way out of it.

He stated that while he did not believe in all parts of the League of Nations, yet he stated that there were some parts of it that had showed the world that there was good in it. The World Court plan was urged by the speaker as one of the ways of solving the controversies, pointing out that 47 nations are now in the court, and that the Uni-

After the death of her husband, which occurred January 22, 1898, the deceased moved to this city, where she continued to reside until her death.

She was an excellent wife, a lov-ing mother, an indulgent grandmoth-er, and a kind neighbor. She was loved by those who knew her and was ever ready to do a loving act of kindness.

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of
The bar,
When I put out to sea.
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.
Twilight and evening bell
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of
When I embark,
farewell.
For tho' from out our borne of
Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

Kingdom is Within:—Neither shall they say, lo here; or, lo there! for, behold the kingdom of God is within you. Luke 17:21.

Prayer—May we this day enthrone Thee, O God, most Merciful and Mighty, supreme in our lives, that the Kingdom of God may be in us and abound.

Youthful Marauders

A number of cases of vandalism and petty thievery have been reported to police lately and it is hinted that some drastic steps will be taken to curb the wave of small banditry that has been worrying the police this summer.

The police have a very good idea about the identity of the boys who are guilty of the misdeeds and if common report be true, their patience has about been exhausted.

The lads who have been implicated are mostly boys of junior high school age. They are all boys who should not be permitted to roam at large until late hours of the night when any boy who is mischievously inclined, is most apt to get into trouble.

It seems that here is a problem that can be solved by parents far better than by police, but if parents are lax in their enforcement of discipline, the police will have to step in and assert their authority.

One method that might be applied by police is to revive the old curfew law, which was at one time strictly enforced. Boys under sixteen years of age out after eight or nine o'clock at night, would have to give a good account of themselves.

Such a law could be enforced within reason. It is not expected that the law would interfere with innocent amusement, but it would put an end to youngsters, who ought to be home in bed, roaming at large until late hours.

Science is Never Idle

Science has done great things for humanity because science is never idle. Almost every day we learn of something that will revolutionize methods in the field of activity to which it is applied. Scientific research is never marking time.

An English scientist predicts that some day through broadcasting of heat from the tropics, the North Pole can be changed to a winter resort.

It requires a keen imagination to conjure up a picture of the tropics where the mythical North Pole stands, with eskimo women sporting themselves in short skirts and rolled hose, and the men with summer-weight clothing basking under the shade of the palm trees.

But if we were to let our memories travel back 25 years, and itemize the inventions of the last quarter of a century, we would not be amazed at any prophecy of scientists.

Two Englishmen have perfected a new application of photography which, they claim, will make it possible to deliver the news through the air to newspapers, so that no type will have to be set.

A film on which all kinds of letters, figures and the like have been photographed is operated by a machine similar to a typewriter. It picks out the characters it wishes to use and these are projected by fractional exposures with the result that the finished product is something like a column of newspaper type. The size of the type is increased or decreased by changing the focus. Printing is done by direct lithographing, by offset photolitho or by some other process. It is said that a master machine can send this service, by wire or wireless, from a central station, and all of the subscribing newspapers would have their type set, to all intents and purposes, when the service arrived.

Thus nothing appears impossible on this planet, even though we have not been able to explore the regions beyond.

Making the Country Dry

Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition enforcement officer, says that the nation will be dried up. Plenty of people are hoping that he knows what he is talking about. He points out that prohibition enforcement is as much essential to restore respect for law as it is to rid the country of booze.

Twenty-four new district administrators have been appointed. Eighteen of them were formerly state directors.

Gen. Andrews promised a new deal and the country is watching to see if he keeps his word.

Some fear is expressed that the same old methods will be in vogue if any of the old organization is retained. This is not an indication either, it is argued, that politics has been entirely eliminated from prohibition enforcement.

The fact that some of the old state directors were continued in the service is not prima facie evidence that graft will continue; neither, also, that politics controlled their appointment.

Gen. Andrews and his new organization are on trial and both should be given a fair chance to back up their assertions.

Then the country will decide whether Gen. Andrews is talking straight from the shoulder or through his hat.

The waist line is reported to be changing. That is to say—that which was once a waist line is coming back.

Famous last words: You all jump for your lives and I will stick to the wheel.

A new flood of poison booze is reported. Still the population continues to increase.

Life expectancy is twelve years longer than two generations ago, providing you don't meet a drunken driver while out riding.

When the other fellow loses his temper, stop the argument; you have won.

Advice is never cheap. It is either valuable or it leads to trouble, which is expensive.

Some men boast that the "Wee small voice" never bothers them—and from their actions we are inclined to believe them.

What has become of the old-fashioned wife who used to notice a button off, instead of a blond hair on her husband's coat?

Night driving will never be made safe until the young swains give up motor wooing.

WASHINGTON.—In the old days of the development of the west, eastern capitalists weren't a bit popular with the pioneers who strained all their powers of persuasion to get it into the enterprisers they were engaged in promoting.

They had to have it, but when they got it they accused it of being dishonest.

Capital, in turn, accused the westerners of trying to play it for a sucker. There was a good deal of ill feeling between them. If the capital had been foreign the feeling would have been lots worse. It would have had its own government back of it, clamoring for justice.

The western Americans would have demanded that their government tell the other government to go to a warmer climate. Possibly it would have done so. Which would have been very unpleasant.

JUST now the United States is engaged in financing the world as the east financed the west here at home, forty or fifty years ago.

Doesn't it stand to reason that the rest of the world is going to feel toward American capital the same way that the west felt toward eastern capital then? Only more so, at least so far as Europe is concerned.

It isn't quite so bad in Asia. The South American South American haven't got the complex civilization that they "sawed" for it. Even so, they're suspicious of North American capital, fearing economic and perhaps political domination by it.

BUT Europeans, at the same time they accept American money, because they must, are resentful of it. They're used to inventing their capital, to exploit others, not to having others invent it, to exploit them.

Not only do they dislike it financially, but they dislike it morally. They're exceedingly greedy, ever Uncle Sam's instigator on a settlement of his war loans. Now he's buying up their industries, which they don't want to lose. He's buying them up wholesale, too. His foreign investments aggregate almost as much as his war claims, and there are around 12 billions, as everybody knows. He started buying bonds. Now he's buying stocks. From a creditor he's becoming owner.

Indian Rajah is in London. Has three wives with him. Imagine having to lie to that many wives.

German say American tourists don't drink much. It all depends on how much is in each.

And in Germany, motorcycles are becoming popular with newswomen. Love's blind here. Maybe it's deaf there.

Don't worry if you haven't heard of all the great men. Chances are they haven't heard of you either.

What the farmers need is a war to the finish between army worms and corn borer, and boll weevil.

LAST YEAR'S DOUBLES WINNERS ARE DEFEATED

Newkirk and Arbuckle Eliminated in County Tennis Tournament by Dragoo and Wilson

OTHER WARM CONTESTS QUE

In one of the best exhibitions of tennis in the entire tournament, which has been in progress for ten days at Memorial park, the favorite team of Wilson and Dragoo defeated Newkirk and Arbuckle, last year's winners. In the first semi-final game of the doubles tourney Thursday afternoon 6-4 and 6-4—two straight sets.

The match was marked by close playing, sensational driving and probably the best serving during the week. Considerable volleying was done on both sides and overhead plays and deep line drives were frequent throughout the stirring contests.

Many device games were required which made the play all the more exciting, although no sets went into deuce. The work of Arbuckle and Wilson near the net was excellent and only the smooth running and superb co-playing of the winners could be seen as a factor in the winning of the contest, which lasted for more than an hour.

The victory entitles the winners to meet the winner of the O. Cartmel Walden and Casady-Dugal, match, in the final game, which will be played along with the final of the singles tourney, which remains to be simmered down from three contestants, to two, Sunday afternoon. With these two games pending, the program on Sunday is expected to be packed with thrills.

EVIDENCE OF PIGSKIN SEASON-OPENING SEEN

Rushville Football Team Being Formed Holds Workout at Third Street Ball Grounds

THE LINEUP IN PRACTICE

That the "Pigskin Season" is rapidly approaching was well proven when the Rushville football team held its workout at the Third street diamonds Thursday evening. Several new men were out for practice last evening. Among the men showing up well, were Max Pearcey and Bennett at half, Casady at full back, Earle McNamara and Goodlin at ends, Pea and Saylor at tackles, Saylor and Black at guards and Noah at center. Several of the other men are showing up well.

More material is needed to make a successful team and everyone that is interested in seeing Rushville have a team is asked to be out to practice next Tuesday night. The goal posts will be up at that time. Practice periods start at 5:30 and continue until 6:45.

A Matter of Proportion

"WHERE," the sausage maker was asked, "can you get enough rabbit meat to make so much sausage? Are you sure you don't mix something else with it?"

"Yes," he confessed, "I do help out with horse meat—about fifty-fifty."

"What do you mean, 'fifty-fifty'?"

"Well," reluctantly, "One horse, one rabbit."

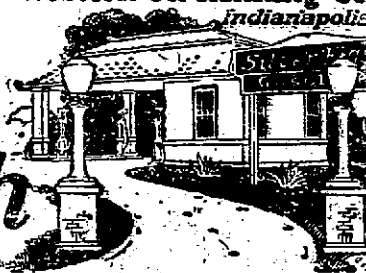

Just about such an unappetizing disclosure awaits the interested investigator who suspects that poor motor fuel of common brand may not be all that it purports to be.

He may be partially prepared for the discovery that its material is not wholly the pure gasoline-bearing part of the petroleum, but the big shock comes when analysis shows up the real proportion of heavy, soggy, unfit dregs that are pressed into service. Such fuel is not and cannot be made to be fit food for your motor.

Silver Flash Gasoline

has no make-weight substitutes for genuine gasoline goodness. It is a limited-volume product made by truly selective processes from truly selected materials. It tolerates no adulterants or destructive elements of free carbon and heavy, slow-burning by-products. It is the clear, old-fashioned product of unshamming quality, real explosiveness and honest power.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Bullet Joe Bush of the Browns, who held the world's champions to one hit, beat them 5 to 0, and reduced Washington's lead in the American League to a single point.

The Reds moved up to within 2 1/2 games of the Giants for second place in the National League, by beating McGraw's men 3-2.

Three bases on balls by Benton in the third inning forced in the lone run of the game and put Pittsburgh 6 1/2 games out in front by virtue of the 1 to 0 victory over Boston.

Brooklyn made it three straight from St. Louis, winning 10 to 9 on Hank DeBerry's single in the ninth. Wanninger's errors let in four runs and the White Sox beat the Yankees 6 to 5.

The Phillies took the final game of their series with the Cubs, 4 to 0, Carlson holding Chicago to 6 hits.

MOVIE NOTES

Great Outdoor Drama

Although it was made under the most perilous conditions, "The White Desert," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by Reginald Barker, which is coming to the Princess theatre today and Saturday is reported to be the greatest outdoor drama that has ever been screened.

The terrifying beauty of the great stretch of snow land at the top of the Continental Divide in Colorado, known as the White Desert, has been transferred to the screen in a manner that defies description, according to advance information.

The story was adapted from the popular novel by Courtney Ryley Cooper and is based on the struggles of a railroad company to drill a tunnel through the Rocky Mountains. An avalanche, started by the blasting in the tunnel, sweeps away the construction camp and the survivors are left without food and in the grip of a blizzard to battle their way to the outer world.

Claire Windsor reaches new heights in this picture, it is said. Pat O'Malley and Robert Frazer are reported to have never given finer screen portrayals as in this gripping production.
